NATION'S FAITH*Military Experts Declare

in Former German Drive: Renewal of Activities in the Balkans Indicated on the Part of the Allies.

By Associated Press.
ROME, May 26.—The retreat of the Italians on a portion of the Trentino front has not caused any pessimism in official circles here. It is pointed out that the entire line of battle is 400 miles long and that there need be no surprise that there should be withdrawals at some points under overwhelming pressure.

The fact that the Austrians now hold a small mountainous section of Italian territory is considered of small importance when compared with the 15 times greater territory occupied by the Italians in Austria.

It is considered that if the enemy continues to advance the conditions which have favored him hitherto will be reversed as the farther he goes from his base of operation the more difficult it will be to supply ammunition for his heavy artillery. On the other hand, the Italians will enjoy the advantage of having good roads, four main railways and inexhaustible reserves available at their immediate rear.

These considerations are independent of the natural obstacles which make the Austro-Italian front so different from that at Verdun. An official statement has been issued explaining that it has been impossible to limit the war to trench fighting in a region like Trentino, where large masses of troops can be easily transferred from one point to another without weakening any section of the front.

FRENCH REGAIN TRENCHES.
PARIS, May 26.—There has been little change in the situation on the Verdun front, says the official announcement issued by the war office this afternoon.

The artillery bombardment was very violent about Avancourt wood and Dead Man Hill. At the latter place a German attack was stopped by the French curtain of fire at its inception. On the right bank of the Meuse the French succeeded in recovering part of the trenches occupied yesterday by the Germans between Haudromont wood and Thiaumont farm. Otherwise the battle front was calm.

NEW BALKAN DRIVE.
ATHENS, May 26.—Exceptional military activity at Saloniki is believed here to portend developments of great importance. General Howell, chief of the British staff, and other officers of the Allies who have been on leave in Athens have been recalled suddenly.

HONORS FOR THAW.
PARIS, May 26.—Lieutenant William Thaw of Pittsburgh, attached to the Franco-American aviation corps, shot down a Fokker aeroplane in the region of Verdun yesterday.

Lieutenant Thaw has been decorated twice, and twice cited in the orders of the day for daring exploits in the air. On April 11 he brought down his first German aeroplane at Verdun. On May 21 he was proposed for citation for driving an enemy aeroplane across the German line and compelling it to descend.

In the combat in which he brought down the German machine, Lieutenant Thaw was slightly wounded by a bullet in the left arm.

TROOPS TO MACEDONIA.
PARIS, May 26.—A news agency dispatch from Athens says that 30,000 Bulgarian troops have been brought from the Black Sea coast to reinforce the Macedonian front.

TO GIVE OUT NOTE.
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The American note to Great Britain and France regarding interference with neutral mail will be given out here for publication tomorrow morning.

BERLIN, May 26.—German troops have continued successfully their attacks on the east bank of the Meuse extending their positions to the west of Haudromont quarry and crossing the Douaumont ravine, the war office announced today. South of Fort Douaumont the French were driven back further. The Germans took an additional 600 prisoners and 12 machine guns.

Bathing For With Kerorene Has Dire Consequence.

"Aunt Dame" Sturgis, an aged resident of Smithfield, is suffering from a poisoned foot due to bathing a corn with carbon oil.

"Aunt Dame" suffered intense pain from her corn and someone advised bathing it with kerorene. She did so and the next morning her foot was swollen. A doctor examined it and said the oil had caused poisoning.

VILLA LEADER IS KILLED
IN CLASH WITH TROOPERS*Cervantes Slain in Fight Which Follows Attack Upon a Corps of Engineers.

By Associated Press.
FIELD HEADQUARTERS, NEAR NAMIQUEPA, Mex., May 26.—Candelario Cervantes, the Villa bandit, was killed by American troops south of Buena Vista today.

The other Mexican, Jose Bonacore, and an American were killed. Two Americans were wounded.

Cervantes' end came after he had made a surprise attack south of Buena Vista on a detachment of engineers repairing the motor truck road. He was beaten back and pursued to the hills by the engineers who had been reinforced by a detachment of the 17th Infantry. When the engagement began the bandits outnumbered the Americans two to one, there being 20 of them. It lasted almost an hour with a hot interchange of bullets.

SAN ANTONIO, May 26.—The American soldier killed in the fighting with Villa bandits near Cuernavaca yesterday was Corporal David Marksbury, General Pershing reported to General Funston today. Privates George S. Nicholson and George Hulbert were wounded. Candelario Cervantes, the Villa leader killed in the fight, was called by General Pershing as "second in importance only to Villa."

WOULD KILL WIFEDr. Walte Included Her in Murder Plans, Is Testimony.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 26.—Could a sane man commit the series of crimes confessed by Dr. Arthur Warren Walte? This question confronted the jury today in the Peck murder case. The young dentist left the witness stand last night after 5 hours and 45 minutes crowded with horrors unparalleled in the history of New York criminal trials.

Every detail of his story was noted by the alienists engaged by the defense for use in framing the hypothesis that he was incapable to limit the war to trench fighting in a region like Trentino, where large masses of troops can be easily transferred from one point to another without weakening any section of the front.

Walte today told an alienist engaged for his defense that he had intended to kill his wife, Clara Peck Walte, and that he wanted her only for her money, according to testimony given by the alienist Dr. Morris J. Karpas today. Dr. Karpas added that Walte said he did not intend to stop at anything to gain his end.

HAS PEACE PLANSWilson About to Start Overtures, Washington Hears.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—President Wilson is giving more serious consideration to the possibility of restoring peace in Europe than at any time since the outbreak of the war. From an authoritative source it was learned today that the President is preparing to do everything possible in informal way to bring about the discussion of peace between belligerent nations, although he has not indicated intentions immediately to offer his services formally as mediator.

RIOTS OVER FOOD.Eighteen Women Injured in Clash With Police in Frankfurt.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, May 26.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that 18 women were wounded in a fight between police and food rioters at Frankfurt-on-the-Main Wednesday night, according to a dispatch received at The Hague.

The riot is said to have started owing to a shortage of meat in the local butcher shop. Three hundred fifty women who had been told there was no meat for them marched through the street carrying black flags and singing Socialist songs.

MACCABEES; GOVERNMENT WILL FURNISH THE WEAPONS

An effort is being made to form a rifle club by the Young Men's No. 159, of the Maccabees, and through the efforts of John P. Trader and other officers the project is rapidly coming to a head. To get the club here it will be necessary to secure at least 22 members, all of whom have to be Maccabees.

The rifle club will be affiliated with the National Rifle Association of the United States and rifles and ammunition will be furnished by the government through the Supreme Tent. There is no age limit to the rifle organization and it is not necessary to undergo a medical examination. A fee of $10 is charged to join the club and a $3 charge is made each year afterwards. If more than 22 members can be secured they will be admitted.

An olive drab uniform will be furnished and a Krag-Jorgensen rifle.

BE ENCOURAGED,
GARY MESSAGE*Head of Steel Corporation
Urges Conservative
Legislation.*MERCHANT MARINE GREAT NEED*Government Must Encourage Building of Ships if Country is Not to Face a Worse Condition After War Than Now Exists; Steel Business Good.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 26.—Declaring that the United States was rapidly becoming the leader among the nations of the world and that it was "high time for every one to understand that a large majority of the people of the United States will insist upon the utilization of every facility to protect and to honorably further the interests of their own country," Judge Elbert H. Gary spoke here today at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute on what he considered "momentous questions."

"There are now confronting the people of this country," he said, "certain momentous questions. They involve life, liberty and happiness. It is likely opportunity will be given to the voters to give expression to their views in the near future relating to some of these questions. The large majority have a friendly feeling toward business success, large or small, so long as it is decently and fairly conducted."

"We believe thoroughly in the regulation and restraint of business in such a way as to prevent harm and injury to the public interests; but we do not agree that the proper way to prevent harm is to destroy the agencies which may be and generally are utilized for the promotion of good."

"The government and the business men should work in harmony with reference to these matters. The markets of the world are multiplying in number and increasing in importance. We are hoping for open ports in every country. We have not heretofore had our proportionate share of this trade. One reason for the limited amount of our export business in the past is found in the lack of ships owned, controlled and operated by Americans. We have been forced to leave subject to the domination of foreigners having the ownership or control of ships and who are interested directly or indirectly in business competing with us."

"When the present wars are ended these conditions will be even worse than they have ever been before unless there are adopted laws or amendments that will place our merchant marine practically on an equality with that of other nations."

"We are in favor of peace for our nation; not at any price, but we would fight any other nation but only defensively. However, we do not wish for war and we believe it is not necessary to engage in it with any European nation or nations."

"If the United States is to assume and maintain the important position among nations that has been thrust upon her, she must be possessed of the same elements of power that others have. She must be prepared to protect her commerce on the seas. She must be ready to support other nations in the instance that the ports of foreign friendly nations shall remain free and open to all. And even more important to consider, we would be able to exert a powerful influence in aiding and even compelling international peace."

In closing Judge Gary said: "The steel industry is good; better than ever before. There have recently been publications to the effect that there is a falling off in new orders and this may be true to a slight extent, but the daily bookings generally are larger in volume than the total producing capacity, and as the unfinished orders on hand are sufficient to keep the mills busy to the remainder of this calendar year and a large portion of 1917 there is not much, if any, cause for concern on the part of manufacturers for the next year."

PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO

Connellsville Has One Grand Newspaper.

An unusual tribute to this newspaper is contained in a letter from P. L. Burley, assistant sales manager of the H. W. Gossard Company, makers of the "Gossard" corset, to the Wright-Metzler Company. Praise of this character, coming from an advertising expert who secures thousands of newspapers and other publications yearly, is praise indeed. The letter says:

"A copy of your excellent local paper, The Courier, has just been brought to my attention in which we note an advertisement over your name featuring Gossard Corsets."

"We want to congratulate you on the splendid appearance of this copy and we also congratulate The Courier on the high-class make-up of their publication and the out-of-the-ordinary good printing which is reflected not only in the advertisements, but in the news columns as well."

GIRL A HEROINETwice Checks Disorder as Angry Miners Get Together.

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, May 26.—Angered when they were told by their secretary, Robert Woods, that there would be no morning session of the United Mine Workers convention called by the miners to repudiate the New York scale in District No. 5, several hundred angry miners crowded about him in a threatening manner in the Union Labor Temple here today.

Woods was being jostled by the crowd when Miss Lena Araford, one of the stenographers, sprang to his side and pleaded with the men to let him go. He was finally allowed to leave the hall and escape one of their number chairman of the delegates was discussing their grievance when disorder again broke out. When the tumult was at its height Miss Araford walked to the piano and began playing a hymn. The men joined in singing and the remainder of the session was taken up in that manner. Morning word came that the officers would be present later in the day.

The delegates represented 50,000 miners who have struck because of dissatisfaction with the new scale.

DEFINES PEACE PLANJoint Court of All Nations Would Enforce It Decries by Arms.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 26.—"The object of the League to Enforce Peace is not to urge President Wilson to take steps to stop the present war, former President Taft, president of the league, declared today in opening his two-day session here."

The acceptance of membership by the United States in a world court in which the joint powers would use their armed and economic forces to enforce its decrees in the interest of peace was charged by Mr. Taft. His speech was closely confined to the technical legal questions involved in the proposed league of nations in such an international tribunal. He denied that such action would curtail the power and authority of either the President or Congress by limiting the constitutional discretion of the latter body, to declare war.

TRIMMING UP LOTSBrushes and Shrubbery Around Graves Being Pruned.

Preparations for Memorial Day are being made by lot owners in the Hill Grove cemetery. Grass is being cut and bushes and shrubbery trimmed up.

Many persons cleaned the graves up at the break of spring but others have not yet been to the cemetery. Joseph T. Johnson, a cemetery official, requests that the remainder of the property owners pay a visit to the cemetery between now and Decoration Day to fix up their lots.

Automobiles are also asked to drive more carefully on the driveways in the cemetery. In some instances it is said markers were knocked down when the cars turned the corners too short.

DELEGATES TO MEET
AND NAME CHAIRMAN*Declares Brumbaugh is

Fight for Control.*TABULATING THE BALLOTS*State Secretary Baker Declares 10 of the 12 Delegates-at-Large Are Loyal to Penrose; Crago Taps the Candidates for Congress-at-Large.*Special to The Courier.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Senator Penrose declaring Governor Brumbaugh defeated for the chairmanship of the state's Republican delegation to Chicago, last night had telegraph calls sent out for meetings of the delegation and of the state committee to elect himself chairman and national committeeman.

These meetings will be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel next Wednesday.

Senator Penrose in signing the call for the delegation conference, said he did so upon the request of a majority of the delegates. The call for the state committee meeting was signed by State Chairman Crago.

Senator Penrose's lieutenants last night held that these two calls boldly announced to both factions in the organization that the governor's fight for the chairmanship had been defeated utterly and that his candidacy for the presidency had been "still further discredited."

The senator felt that way himself when he announced that telegrams, letters, telephone calls and personal interviews had resulted in winning for him as a candidate for chairman, 56 of the delegation's 76 votes. Thirtynine is a majority. He expects to increase his support to 60 votes.

W. Harry Baker, secretary of the state committee, gives out the state committee's compilation of the returns for delegates-at-large and for congressmen-at-large. The figures represented official returns from 61 out of the 67 counties, figures from three other counties were unofficial, and one county's returns were missing.

These figures show that Penrose leaders elected 10 of the 12 delegates-at-large and nominated three of the four candidates for congressmen-at-large.

Mr. Baker's totals for the winning delegates-at-large were:
James S. Brown, Jr., 229,889
Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong, 217,792
E. W. Haddock, 205,998
W. H. Baker, 205,998
Gov. Brumbaugh, 198,853
John W. Wampler, 198,853
J. C. Galloway, 189,872
Senator Boies Penrose, 189,872
Senator George T. Oliver, 189,872
Alba B. Johnson, 181,926
William S. Aaron, 180,740
Guy W. Moore, 174,147

The Baker totals for the nominations for congressmen-at-large show that three of the Penrose ticket—Congressman-at-large—Crago, Gariand, and Joseph McLaughlin—and one of the Brumbaugh ticket, Congressman-at-large John R. K. Scott, were nominated.

The four winning nominees with their totals were:
Crago, 192,789
Gariand, 190,740
Scott, 184,991
McLaughlin, 161,414

The vote for Sobel was 157,008 and for Congressman-at-large Daniel F. Lefcan, 139,747.

TO END ROBBERIES*City Officials Propose to Prosecute All Who are Involved.*NUMBER OF YOUTHS ARRESTED*Most of Those Who Have Been Taking Lead Pipe and Other Plumbing Out of Empty Houses Have Been Brought to Answer Serious Charges.

Arrests of boys for cutting lead pipes from the plumbing fixtures of vacant houses throughout the city today led to the apprehension of Joseph Pildish and Philip Kessler, who operate a junk yard on Church place. A warrant charging them with violation of the act governing junk yards and with receiving stolen goods was sworn out by City Detective J. W. Mitchell and served by Constable Charles Wilson. Only one of the men accepted service, the other member of the firm being in Fairchance. Bail was posted for a hearing when he returns to the city.

The charge against the junk dealers grew out of the arrest of Lawrence Cossel, Bob Artis and Wash Ray, boys ranging from 14 to 18 years, on charges of having torn lead pipes from the plumbing fixtures of houses owned by Dr. G. W. Newcomer and sold them as junk. Suspicion was placed on these youths and on several others who have not yet been arrested, after Detective Mitchell had made an extensive investigation.

The depredations continued until it was no longer safe for a property owner to allow an empty house to remain without a watchman, or for residents to leave their homes unguarded when they left the city for a few days. Homes were entered and the lead pipes either cut or torn from sinks or other fixtures. In some instances when a piece of pipe was cut from its connection to a wash bowl or sink the floor was torn up and the lead pipe broken off as far down as could be reached. The boys say they had no difficulty in selling the pipe. One of them told Detective Mitchell they were told to bring all they could get.

The act governing junk yards provides that dealers shall take the name of all parties selling them junk and record them together with the date upon which the sale is made. It absolutely forbids buying from minors. The penalty is a fine not exceeding $500 and imprisonment, or both at the discretion of the court.

Among the property owners who have suffered from the depredations of the boys are Mayor Rockwell Marietta whose brick row on Fairview avenue was visited; Mrs. J. M. Lytle of Fairview avenue; Mrs. Mahon and the Banning House on Water street; properties of Dr. G. W. Newcomer on Fairview avenue and some belonging to L. L. West on Francis avenue. The boys were not particular; any vacant house with pipes in it, looked good to them.

WILL AID VETERANSCompany D and Cadets Will March With Soldiers Tuesday.

An invitation from the G. A. R. for Company D to act as escort on Memorial Day was read after drill at the armory last evening. The entire company will turn out if possible for all the men to get away from their work and the militia will march in their service uniforms.

The cadets were wished to may also march in the parade and will be furnished with uniforms at the armory. Many of the cadets are expected to be in line to swell the ranks. This is the first time a military organization of boys has taken part in the celebration of Memorial Day with the old soldiers.

The company and cadets will meet at the armory Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock to get ready for the parade. A firing squad to give three volleys at the cemetery will be formed at the armory.

A drill of company men and cadets was held at the armory last evening. There was a good turnout and a good drill. The armory was hot and the lieutenant took the company to the outside where drills were held on the vacant lot near the armory and on South side streets.

Interest that lagged in the cadet ranks is picking up again and the roll is filling up. For a time the turnout was not very good and Lieutenant Morton changed the drill night to Thursday so the younger company could drill with the militia.

LABOR THE BIG PROBLEM

In the Steel and Iron and Allied Industries at This Time.

Rapidly the labor situation has become the item of greatest concern in the steel trade's position, says The American Metal Market. This is not unexpected, however. A year or more ago there was serious discussion whether the steel industry, if called upon by the volume of its orders to run at capacity, would be able to do so, as there had been a deficiency in immigration. It was with some surprise, perhaps, that the steel mills found they could operate at capacity, last September, but as production became more intensive, some small extensions at least to steel mill capacity were made and men were bid for by other industries, the labor supply became a more serious question.

In recent weeks there has been added to the scarcity of labor, in point of numbers, an entirely new element, the unwillingness of men to work full time, and to strike for unreasonable things, and a disposition to be restive and inclined to make strong demands.

There are well posted men who firmly express the opinion that the recent disorders in the Pittsburgh district were incited by Germany and Austria. Apart from this theory, however, it may be observed that the war has set the world back a century or two and workmen do things that they otherwise would not do. No clear hope can be entertained that this tendency to refuse to do a full day's work, when men are scarce and industry needs the best work of all, will subside in the near future.

GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and desecrated, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAH, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

PLANTS ARE GROWING

Trees and Bushes Planted By Pennsylvania Company Take Root.

The trees and bushes that were planted a few weeks ago on the West Side by the Pennsylvania railroad have taken root and are growing in bloom. The hedges have been trimmed off close to the ground to make them thick and they are growing well. Green leaves have appeared on all the trees and they will easily survive the summer.

At N. J. tower, near the station, the plants are beginning to make headway. The soil there is good as it was only put there when the bushes were planted. By the middle of the summer, the Pennsylvania company expects the West Side to be one of the prettiest spots on the Southwest branch.

COLLECTOR GIVEN HEARING

Arrested Last Week For Soliciting Orders For Clothing.

T. L. Hastings, an agent of a tailoring company of Pittsburgh, was given a hearing before Mayor Marietta this morning charged with soliciting orders for clothes for the firm. Hastings was arrested some time ago by City Detective Mitchell but the hearing was postponed until this morning.

The defendant told the mayor he was not a solicitor, but a collector. He said the company had a man who went ahead of him who did the soliciting, and that he did not do anything except collect the bills. The mayor asked Hastings if his company wanted to take a license for soliciting out, but the agent said he could not reply without first seeing his employers. The hearing was then postponed until next Friday.

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT
Try Oil of Koroin to Keep Weight Down or to Reduce Superfluous Fat.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of insightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any person who is satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to A. A. Clarke a good druggist and get a box of oil of Koroin capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy. Conditions become lighter and the skin has a healthy appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of Koroin is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.—Adv.

NOTE IS SHARP.
Britain and France are Told Not to Molest Neutral Mail.
By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—Vigorous language equalling almost that employed in the last communication to Germany in the submarine issue, is understood to characterize the note delivered to the British and French embassies here yesterday protesting against interference with neutral mails on the seas.

Outlines of the note have been cabled to London and Paris and the full text will be forwarded by mail. This is taken to mean that replies will be framed only on mature consideration.

At the Theatres.

FLORENCE REED IN "THE COWARDLY WAY"

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE COWARDLY WAY."—A wonderful story is told in a wonderful manner in "The Cowardly Way," the coming release on the Equitable program at the Soisson Theatre, to be shown today. Florence Reed, the star, and Marc Edmund Jones, the author, have combined their remarkable talents in a production which is with-out an equal as a screen drama, and added to this, the Equitable's studio has revealed new developments of the photographic art which will be delightful as well as a thrilling surprise. A new light is thrown on Hamlet's famous soliloquy by the development of the play, which touches a new psychological point, aside from its dramatic and artistic appeal. "The Great Smash" is a three reel L-Ko comedy with Alice Howell and Ray Griffith in the leading roles. It is a railroad farce about a worthless son who is turned out on the road to work on a section gang. The last of it thrills the people, when an engine goes over the end of a draw-bridge to destruction. "Settling Strife With Mexico," a 4000 ft. on strike, seeking 3,000 National Guardsmen, are a few of the interesting scenes in the Animated Weekly No. 19. Tomorrow the World Film Corporation presents the distinguished actor, House Peters in the stirring five reel detective drama, "The Hand of Peril."

GLOBE THEATRE.

"POOR LITTLE PEPPINA."—The first seven reel picture in which the screen's foremost star, Mary Pickford, has ever been presented in the attraction today at the Globe. "Poor Little Peppina" is the type of a production which has its unusual drawing power and is in every sense a Paramount picture. A child of wealthy American parents is kidnapped by Italian sailors and put to work in a Sicilian vineyard and becomes in succession a stowaway disguised as a boy, a bootblack, an employee of an opium den, a messenger boy and finally the restored millionaire's daughter, who comes into her own. The production has undoubtedly been accepted as one of Miss Pickford's foremost triumphs. As Peppina, the boundless scope of Miss Pickford's skill is illustrated in her delineation of the various roles and with this diversity of atmosphere and interest and with its many dramatic and amusing episodes, the picture is meeting with wonderful success. Miss Pickford is assisted by Edwin Morgan, Edith Shyne, Eugene O'Brien, Jack Pickford and other star players. Monday Matinee Peppina will appear in "Playing With Fire," a five act Metro wonder play of extraordinary power. Tuesday Mae Murray, the fascinating star, will be featured in "To Have and to Hold," a five part Paramount production. The story is a thrilling romance of the early Colonial days in Virginia. Miss Murray is an artist of unusual talent, beauty and personality, and is ably supported by Wallace Reid.

Reliable Laxative Relieved This Baby

Child was Badly Constipated Until Mother Tried This Simple Remedy.

In spite of every care and attention to diet, children are very apt to become constipated, a condition responsible for many ills in after life unless promptly relieved.

Mrs. C. W. Wilson of Shelbyville, Tenn., had trouble with her baby boy, Woodrow, until she heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She writes, "I can safely say Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy of its kind on earth. It acts so gently and yet so surely. Little Woodrow was very badly constipated and we could find nothing gave relief until we tried your Syrup Pepsin, which gave immediate relief."

WOODROW WILSON.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs free from opiates or narcotic drugs, mild in action, positive in effect and pleasant to the taste. It has been prescribed by Dr. Caldwell for more than a quarter of a century and can now be had for fifty cents a bottle in any well-stocked drug store. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois.

DECLARE THEY WILL BUILD REGARDLESS OF ALL OPPOSITION

Projectors of New Greene County Railroad Not Disturbed.

SAY COMPETITION IS BLUFFING

And Plans to Build Only a Short Line So As to Block Route for a Road From the Ohio to the Lake Region May Connect with Western Maryland

For interest in the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, the very emphatic in their declaration that the road will be built regardless of the action the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, as an old competitor.

"We are not in the least disturbed over the information that the Pennsylvania company will probably build a railroad up the Ohio creek and a man who has taken a leading part in the movement for a new railroad to the Connellsville region. In fact, he neither did we were expecting it, we are not surprised, and incidentally happened, that it came at this time.

The good faith of the projectors of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad is questioned. The fact that this company's charter authorizes the construction of a line from Wheeling to Majorville only is taken as evidence of a desire to block the western entrance to the Wheeling & Lake Erie line and prevent any other line from building through to the Connellsville coke region.

"On the other hand, we propose to build a railroad for general purposes," say the projectors of the Wheeling & Lake Erie "a well equipped main line which can be used as a trunk line. It may later be doubled track."

The engineers who are now in the field for the Wheeling & Lake Erie have decided to a report of the Wheeling Intelligence that this project is bonafide and proper, that within a short time the work of building up rights-of-way will be begun and the actual construction of the railroad is soon to follow. Already it is cited some rights-of-way have been secured in Ohio and Maryland.

Asked when the road would probably be completed and in operation from Wheeling to the coal fields in Ohio to connect a member of the engineering corps said that it was his personal opinion that this would be within the next two years.

The engineer confirmed the statement often made that there is room for but one railroad along the Wheeling creek valley, and added that the road constructed would be the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Recent conferences between R. F. Kelley, general traffic manager of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and C. W. Hertz, general traffic manager of the Wheeling Terminal Company, are being discussed in railroad circles, as they are said to relate to the construction of the proposed Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. By reason of the affiliations of the Wheeling & Lake Erie road it is taken that the construction of the Wheeling & Lake Erie line means that a connecting link will be established between the Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Western Maryland. The plans of the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, as announced, make no provision for an extension beyond the Monongahela river hence the manner of making a connection with the Western Maryland, with its present terminus at Connellsville does not appear plain.

Human Fly Gets as Far as Seventh Story of Uniontown Building.

Jack Williams, the Human Fly, who on Wednesday night climbed the front of the First National Bank here, last night scaled the First National Bank Building in Uniontown as far as the seventh floor. His progress was stopped there by the refusal of a fire dweller to open a window for him. Williams took up the usual collection asking for $50, but the returns of the first round showed $23.15. He received $28 here. He climbs the tallest building in Brownsville tonight.

SIGNAL FITTER NOT SORRY NOW IT COSTS MORE

Does Not Regret His Eating Is More Expensive Due to Tanlac.

It is upon unqualified detailed endorsement like the following that the monster demand for Tanlac has been built up. This convincing Tanlac story was told by C. J. Swires of 1819 Eighth Avenue Altoona a signal fitter.

"I have been a great sufferer from catarrh in an advanced stage," Mr. Swires began. "I have used everything I ever heard of I believe, but continued, but nothing I used helped me one particle. There were mucus discharges from my nose, I was affected by throat, violent coughing, offensive breath, impaired appetite, dizzy spells, and altogether I was in a nervous run-down condition and contacted colds."

"I heard of the wonderful work of this new medicine Tanlac and I immediately got me some of the medicine. I am certainly glad that I purchased the medicine and began taking it when I did as it has done me a world of good. I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and am now on my third. This statement of mine is then fact not fancy, but is based on ample proof. All the symptoms from which I have suffered have disappeared and I believe Tanlac has cured me. I am however, going to keep on taking the medicine as I believe I will get better than I ever was in my life."

Tanlac is now sold in Connellsville exclusively by Connellsville Drug Co., where the premier preparation can be had.

Tanlac can also be secured at D. C. Enos's drug store, DuBois, Pa.—Ad.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mikesell of Washington, Pa. Gets Some Weight Points.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 26.—O. Evans Mikesell of Washington, Pa. of the Pennsylvania state office of weights and measures, is here attending the annual convention of experts from all parts of the country on weights and measures held under the auspices of the United States Bureau of Standards. The work of the national and state officials who have to do with the problems relating to weights and measures is recognized as of the greatest value to nearly every form of business throughout the country. The work of the Bureau of Standards operates not only to the benefit of the consumer, the honest business man also benefits. For instance, some time ago the United States representatives discovered on testing a large lot of scales for weighing coal that it was under-weight every carload of coal by several thousand pounds.

SMITHFIELD

SMITHFIELD, May 26.—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad Company has a gang of workmen here building the platform that town council asked for some time ago, so that passengers can board their trains from the depot without crossing two tracks as they are compelled to do now. Before there was a siding between the main track and the depot. They have taken this up for a couple hundred feet in front of the depot and are plinking it over. This is a much needed improvement and will minimize the danger that was always imminent to passengers taking their trains here.

The citizens of the borough did a fine job in cleaning up in and about their properties yesterday, which was suggested by council as Good Cleanup and Cleanup Day. Cleanup but good results. Day cleanup as it is called, any one to work on the roads. It is too busy a

TROTTER DEFEATS LEISENRING NO. 1 BY SCORE OF 3-0

Lablack on Mound for Victor Wins His Fourth Consecutive Game.

NO SCORING UNTIL THE 8TH.

Then Trotter Hammers in Three Runs in Succession, Scoring First Three Men at Bat; B. Burkey Makes a Brilliant One Hand Catch in Center.

The Trotter baseball team defeated Leisenring No. 1 on the Trotter grounds last evening, 3-0. The playing of both teams was good, and only one error, made by Clark at shortstop, figured in the playing. Everything else that was hit was fielded in good shape by each team. Lablack of Trotter won his fourth consecutive victory this season. Trotter has not won every game this year but in each one that Lablack has been on the mound the Trotter boys have taken.

Neither side was able to score until the eighth inning when McDonough, the first man up, reached first base on Clark's error. He went to second on B. Burkey's single to right and scored when Kerne hit. Burkey went to third and Kerne stopped at second. Burkey scored on Lablack's out at first. Kerne scored a few moments later on Smith's hit.

The feature of the game was a one-hand running catch by B. Burkey of Leisenring's hit, which looked like a triple when it started. The ball went towards deep right but Burkey got under it just in time. The score:

Kisses and Smokes for American Soldiers on the Way to Mexico

These snapshots show what happened to the men of the Twenty-first Infantry just before their train left Portland, Oregon, for the Mexican border.

First their mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts distributed a choice assortment of good-bye kisses among Uncle Sam's fighting men, thereby booming business at the recruiting stations.

Then a party of women appeared with bagging bags and presented sacks of "Bull" Durham smoking tobacco to the whole detachment. Perhaps these kind-hearted souls didn't know it, but this tobacco is part of the regular equipment of both the army and navy of the United States, and rolling it into cigarettes is a favorite diversion of soldiers and sailors.

DUMPS GARBAGE OVER HILL; WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR HIM

Harry Rosenberg Will Explain Violation of Health Ordinance to the Mayor.

A warrant for Harry Rosenberg was issued by Mayor Marletta this morning for violating a health ordinance of the city. Health Officer Hetzel charges that he has been throwing garbage over the hill in the rear of his home near South alley. Residents below him have been complaining and after investigation the warrant was issued.

Rosenberg was notified by Health Officer Hetzel to appear before the Mayor Thursday morning but the defendant had it postponed a day. Yesterday he said it was necessary for him to go to Pittsburg and asked that the hearing be put off until this morning. When he did not appear today the warrant was sworn out and he will be arrested.

When Officer Hetzel asked Rosenberg what was becoming of his garbage the man told him the garbage company was collecting it each day. After the garbage had been found in the rear, however, Rosenberg made no attempt to deny that he had put it there.

Health Officer Hetzel says that Rosenberg is not the only arrest that is going to be made in the next future. Many complaints of unhealthy conditions have been made and he is going to see that they are cleaned out or the ones responsible for such conditions will be given hearings before the mayor and fined.

At the present time, however, it is hard to have the garbage hauled away quickly as the garbage company is not thoroughly familiar with covering the city. Residents in all sections are continually sending complaints to the city hall saying they cannot have their garbage taken away and that the cans are running over. It will be necessary for the garbage company to put more wagons on the job if the city is to be covered at all.

PLANS FALL FLAT

Virtually No Work Done in County on Good Roads Day.

While other counties report great activity on Good Roads Day, it fell flat in this section of Fayette and Westmoreland counties. When the automobilists that interest, the farmers and township supervisors did likewise. As a consequence few workers were out.

In the vicinity of Greensburg, Westmoreland county, enthusiasts got out and did good work. As part of a general plan for better roads, the Westmoreland commissioners made a trip over sections of the county where improved roads have been asked for. Among these was the Scottsdales-Tyrone road, now under construction. The inter-county bridge over Jacobs Creek at North Scottsdale, now being constructed jointly by Fayette and Westmoreland counties, was also inspected.

Myersdale reports that at least $1,000 worth of work was done in that part of Somerset county.

McKeesport Collecting Garbage.
The collection of garbage by private contractors in the city of McKeesport having become so unsatisfactory, the city authorities have taken the matter in hand. A force of city teams will make the collection under the direction of the department of public safety.

FIGHT OVER SIDING

West Penn Goes to Public Service Commission in Dispute With R. & O.

The West Penn fight to construct a siding from the Pennsylvania railroad to its power plant at Fayette has been taken before the State Public Service Commission and a hearing will be held in the court house at Pittsburg on Wednesday, May 31, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The siding has been built as far as the Baltimore & Ohio extension but the latter road has refused to permit the tracks to cross. The trolley company is now applying for a certificate of public convenience evidencing the commission's approval of the construction of the siding.

The siding would give the trolley company connections with three railroads and enable it to get shipments of coal for the immense power plant under almost any conditions.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—Not only Elliot City, but its larger neighbor, Baltimore, was astir today when it became known that Evelyn Nesbit, the former wife of Harry K. Thaw, had been married so quietly at the Howard county seat Wednesday afternoon.

There was probably none more surprised than Rev. Mr. Snyder, the minister who performed the ceremony. The names given—Nesbit and Montani—by the couple, did not have any significance to the minister at the time. If they had, he probably would have refused to perform the ceremony, according to his intimations.

MINTYRE WANTED CREDIT.

Old time Detroit players will recall with a laugh a play that Matty McIntyre once pulled when he was with the Tigers. McIntyre was on first and Detroit runners also occupied second and third.

All at once McIntyre sprang for second. In an instant all is in an uproar. The Detroit coaches tear their hair. Tiger runners dash back and forth, and the opposing team starts in to take advantage of the break.

In the excitement they throw the ball away, and all three Tigers score. "There!" exclaimed Matty, as he stalked to the bench. "see what I did? I knew they'd get mixed up on that play. Merely three runs, eh?"

ROBERTSON FLEET OF FOOT.

Giants' Outfielder Probably the Fastest Man in Baseball.

If Dave Robertson, the Giants' outfielder, ever is of a mind to go against the circling base record, which is now held by Hans Lobert at 13.45 seconds, New York experts are of the opinion that he can beat the mark easily.

Robertson will make Ty Cobb, Max Carey, Clyde Milen and other base runners celebrated for their speed look slow. He probably could not only lead any one of them by ten feet in going around the bases, but he looks a foot faster going to first than any man in the big show today.

Bert Shotton of the St. Louis Browns is a streak going to first. He pulls the average infield in ten feet when he is at bat. This is necessary because on an ordinary bouncer the infielder cannot complete the mechanics of his play—the fielding and throwing of the ball—fast enough to intercept Shotton at first when playing back.

Robertson, it seems, is faster than Shotton. A race between the two on the bunt and run to first would be entertaining.

It would seem that one day set aside each season that all the players might compete in running, throwing, batting, etc., would be a profitable thing, as certainly it would be edifying. The records of the mechanical part of the game are poorly kept and seldom alluded to. A baseball field day would be more interesting than a track meet.

JOE TINKER HAS SCHOOL.

Instruction Will Be Given in Art of Playing Pastime.

Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Cubs, sprung the latest wrinkle in the national pastime recently when a correspondence school of baseball was launched under his name. The articles of incorporation were issued by Secretary of State Stevens to the Joe Tinker Bureau of Baseball Instruction, Chicago. The capital stock was given at $1,000.

The object is to give and furnish by correspondence or otherwise instruction in the game of baseball. Things will be the done of the new institution. Assisting him in dispensing the "insider stuff" on how to become a Ty Cobb or a Christy Mathewson will be Percy Skilton, former pitching star of Durham, and Joseph N. Bishop.

NO PLACE FOR BOXERS.

Word comes from Australia that Eddie McGoory is going to the place. It is said that the health of the man from Dun-kosh is poor and that his ring career is practically at an end. Life in Australia always has had a bad effect on American boxers. Billy Papke went there a champion and came back a drib. In the land of the kangaroo he grew fat and sluggish. The same thing happened to Tommy Burns, who never did anything worth while after he lost the title while in that country. Joe Smith was better than the average middleweight until he visited the antipodes, but he, too, left his form there. Jimmy Clabby is another who lost his pep after a visit to Australia.

CHAPTER XIX. A New Crisis.

WITH the completion of the railroad to the glacier crossing there came to it a certain amount of travel, consisting mainly of prospectors bound to and from the interior. The winter trail was open, and over it passed more of the cattle from the northward mining camps, but now and then a frugal stranger emerged from the canyon above O'Neill's terminus with tales of the gold country or a venture some sledge putty snowed his way inland from the end of the track. Murray made a point of hauling these trails on his construction trains and of receding them in his camp as freely as he did his own men. In time the wretched line of sled trails became fairly well broken, and scarcely a week passed without bringing several "newcomers."

One day as O'Neill was picking his way through the outskirts of the camp he encountered one of his night foremen and was surprised to see that the fellow was leading a trail dog by a chain. Now these animals are as much a part of the northland as the winter snows, and they are a common sight in every community, but the man's patent embarrassment challenged Murray's attention, he acted as if he had been detected in a theft or a breach of duty.

"We came to take pictures," she announced.

"Hello, Walsh. Been buying some live stock?" O'Neill inquired.

"Yes, sir. I picked up this dog cheap."

"Harcourt, too, eh?" Murray noted that Walsh's arms were full of gear—enough, indeed, for a full team. Knowing that the foreman owned no dogs, he asked half-banteringly:

"You're not getting ready for a trip I hope?"

"No, sir. Not exactly, sir. The dog was cheap, so I—I just bought him."

As a matter of fact, dogs were not cheap, and Walsh should have been in bed at this hour. Murray walked on wondering what the fellow could be up to.

Later he came upon a laborer dickered with a Lynx ladle over the price of a fur robe, and in front of a bunkhouse he found other members of the night crew talking earnestly with two lately arrived strangers. They fell silent as he approached and responded to his greeting with a peculiar nervous eagerness, staring after him curiously as he passed on.

He expected Dr. Gray out from Omar, but as he neared the track he met Mellen. The bridge superintendent emerged briefly upon some detail, then said:

"I don't know what the matter with the men this morning. They're loafing."

"Loafing? Nonsense! You expect too much."

Mellen shook his head. "The minute my back is turned they begin to gossip. I've had to call them down."

"Perhaps they want a holiday."

"They're not that kind. There's something in the air."

While they were speaking the morning train pulled in, and O'Neill was surprised to see at least a dozen townspeople descending from it. They were farmers, sailors, frequenters for the most part, and, oddly enough, they had with them dogs and sleds and all the equipment for travel. He was prevented from making inquiry, however, by a shout from Dr. Gray, who cried: "Hey, chief! Look who's here!"

O'Neill hastened forward with a greeting upon his lips, for Stanley was helping Eliza and Natalie down from the engine which served as a passenger coach.

The young women becomingly clad in their warm winter furs, made a picture good to look upon. Natalie had slipped wonderfully since her marriage, and added to her rich dark beauty there was now an elusive sweetness, a warmth and womanliness which had been lacking before. As for Eliza, she had never appeared more sparkling, more freshly wholesome and sane than on this morning.

"We came to take pictures," she announced. "We want to see if the bridge suits us."

"Don't you believe her, Mr. O'Neill," said Natalie. "Don't tell us you were waiting to find out if the bridge was taking you in hand. I'm here merely in the office of chaplain and common sense. You have been overdoing. You're positively haggard."

Gray nodded. "He won't mind me. I hope you'll abuse him well. Go at him hammer and tongs."

Encouraging Murray's smiling assertion that he was the only man in camp who really suffered from ill-health, the girls pulled him about and examined him critically, then fell to discussing him as if he were not present.

"He's worn to the bone," said Eliza. "Did you ever see anything like his wrinkles? He looks like a dried apple."

Natalie declared:

"Dad says he doesn't eat."

"Probably he's too busy to chew his food. We'll make him 'etcherize'."

"And eat soup. Then we'll mend his underclothes. I'll warrant he doesn't dress properly."

"How much sleep does he get?" Natalie queried of the physician.

"About half as much as he needs."

"Leave him to us," said Eliza grimly. "Now, where does he live? We'll start in there."

O'Neill protested faintly. "Please don't! I hate soup, and I can't allow anybody to pry into my wardrobe. It won't stand inspection."

Miss Appleton pointed to his feet and asked crisply:

"How many pairs of socks do you wear?"

"One."

Natalie was shocked. "One pair of socks in this cold? It's time we took a hand. Now, lead us to this rabbit hole where you live."

With a feminine touch the girls enthusiastically fixed up Murray's home. They put his house in order; they mended his socks. They had just finished their work when the doctor came running. He began abruptly:

"I've been looking for you, Murray. The men are all quitting."

O'Neill started. "All quitting? What are you talking about?"

"There's a stampede—a gold stampede!"

Murray stared at the speaker as if doubting his own senses.

"There's no gold around here," he said at last.

"Two men came in last night. They have been prospecting over in the White river and report rich quartz. They've got samples with 'em and say there's no place richer anywhere."

The significance of the incidents which had troubled him earlier in the day dawned upon O'Neill; it was plain enough now why his men had been gossiping and buying dogs and fur robes.

"Who are these prospectors?" he inquired curiously.

"Nobody seems to know. Their names are Thorn and Baker. That gang from Omar has gone on and our people will follow in the morning. Those who can't scrape up an outfit here are going into town to equip. We won't have fifty men on the job by tomorrow night."

"What made Baker and Thorn stop here?"

Gray shrugged. "Tired out, perhaps. We've got to do something quick, Murray. Thank God, we don't have to sell 'em grub or haul 'em to Omar. That will check things for a day or two. If they ever start for the interior we're lost, but the catarract isn't frozen over and there's only one sled trail past it. We don't need more than six good men to do the trick."

"We can't stop a stampede that way."

Dr. Gray's face fell into harsh lines. "I'll bend a Winchester over the first man who tries to pass. Appleton hold the place last summer; I'll guarantee to do it now."

"No. The men have a right to quit. Stanley. We can't force them to work. We can't build this bridge with a chain gang."

"I can't beat up these two prospectors and ship 'em in to the hospital until things cool down."

"That won't do, either. I'll talk with them and if the story is right—well, I'll throw open the commissary and outfit every one."

Eliza gasped; Gray stammered.

"You're crazy!" exclaimed the doctor. "If it's a real stampede they'll go anyhow, so we may as well take our medicine with a good grace. The loss of even a hundred men would cripple us."

"The camp is seething. It's all Mellen can do to keep the day shift at work. If you talk to 'em maybe they'll listen to you."

"Argument won't sway them. This isn't a strike; it's a gold rush."

He turned toward the town.

Eliza was speechless with dismay as she hurried along beside him; Gray was scowling darkly and muttering anathemas; O'Neill himself was lost in thought. The gravity of this final catastrophe left nothing to be said.

Stanley lost little time in bringing the two miners to the office, and there for a half hour Murray talked with them. When they perceived that he was disposed to treat them courteously, they told their story in detail and answered his questions with apparent honesty. They willingly showed him their quartz samples and related the hardships they had suffered.

Gray listened impatiently and once or twice undertook to interpolate some question, but at a glance from his chief he desisted. Nevertheless his long fingers, itched to lay hold of the strangers and put an end to this tale which threatened ruin. His anger grew when Murray dismissed them with every evidence of a full belief in their words.

"Now that the news is out and my men are determined to quit I want everybody to have an equal chance."

O'Neill announced as they came to go. "There's bound to be a great rush and a lot of suffering, maybe some deaths, so I'm going to call the boys together and have you talk to them."

Thorn and Baker agreed and departed. As the door closed behind them Gray exploded, but Murray checked him quickly, saying with an abrupt change of manner: "Wait! Those fellows are lying!"

Snatching the telephone, he rang up Dan Appleton and swiftly made known the situation. Stanley could hear the engineer's startled exclamation.

"Get the cable to Cortez as quickly as you can," O'Neill was saying. "You have friends there, haven't you? Good! Fetch just what you'll have to pay Gordon's payroll. I'll send out if Joe Thorn and Henry Baker are known and, if so, who they are and what they've been doing lately. Get it quick, understand. Then phone me."

He slammed the receiver upon his hook. "That's not Alaska quartz," he said shortly. "It came from Nevada. The great abnaks. Every hard rock miner carries specimens like those in his kit."

"You think Gordon?"

"I don't know. But we've got rock men on this job who'll recognize ore out of any mine they ever worked in. Go find them, then come back here and hold the line open for Dan."

"Suppose he can't locate these fellows in Cortez?"

"Then—let's not think about that."

The news of O'Neill's attitude spread quickly, and excitement grew among the workmen. Up through the chill darkness of early evening they came chattering. They were noisy and eager and when the gang summoned them to supper they rushed the messhouse in lusty good humor.

These men, he felt sure, were not those who had struck earlier in the season at the height of Gordon's optimism. Linn, but fellows whose loyalty and industry were unquestioned. Their refusal to stampede at the first news was proof of their devotion, yet say one who has lived in a mining community knows that no loyalty of employee to employer is strong enough to withstand for long the feverish excitement of a gold rush.

Long before the hour when O'Neill appointed the low toilet messhouse was crowded.

Natalie and Eliza, knowing the importance of this crisis, refused to go home and begged Murray to let them attend the meeting. Mr. Blaine, who also felt the keenest concern in the outcome, offered to escort them, and at last with some difficulty he managed to wedge them inside the door, where they apprehensively scanned the gathering.

Murray had no skill as a public speaker in the ordinary sense; he attempted no oratorical tricks and addressed his workmen in a matter of fact tone.

"Boys," he began, "there has been a gold strike at the head of the White river and you want to go. I don't blame you; I'd like to go myself if there's any chance to make money."

"You're all right, boss!" shouted some one, and a general laugh greeted the crowd's relief at this acceptance of the inevitable. They had expected argument, despite the contrary assurances they had received.

"Now, we all want an even break. We want to know all there is to know, so that a few fellows won't have the advantage of the rest. The strike is 300 miles away. It's winter and you know what that means. I talked with Baker and Thorn this afternoon. I want them to tell you just what they told me."

CHAPTER XX. The Fake Is Exposed.

TWO miners were thrust forward, and the embarrassed Thorn who had acted as spokesman, was hoisted to a table under Murray's encouragement he stammered out the story of his good fortune, the tale running straight enough to fan excitement into a blaze. There was no disposition to doubt, for news of this sort is only too sure of credence.

When the speaker had finished O'Neill inquired:

"Are you an experienced quartz miner? Do you know ore when you see it?"

"Sure! I worked in the Jumbo, at Goldfield, Nev., up to last year. So did Baker."

"When did you go into the White river country?"

"How did you go in?"

"We packed in. When our grub ran out we killed our horses and cached the meat for dog feed."

"Is there any other dog feed there?"

"No, sir."

"Any people?"

"Not a soul. The country is open to the desert corners. It's a fine looking country too. We seen quartz indications everywhere. I reckon this speaks for itself. Thorn significantly held up his ore samples. 'We've made our locations. You fellows is welcome to the test. First come, first served.'"

There was an eager scramble for the specimens on the part of those nearest the speaker. After a moment Murray asked them:

"Did you fellows ever see any rock like that?"

One of his workmen answered:

"I have."

"Where?"

"In the Jumbo, at Goldfield. I 'high graded' there in the early days."

There was a laugh at this. Thorn added angrily: "Well," he rejoined, "we've got the same formation over here in the White river. It's just like Goldfield. It'll be the same kind of a camp, too, when the news gets out."

O'Neill broke in smoothly to say:

"Most of our fellows have no dogs. It will take them three weeks to cover the trail. They'll have to spend three weeks in there, then three weeks more coming out—over two months altogether. They can't haul enough grub to do them."

He turned to his employees and said gravely: "You'll better think it over, boys. Those who have teams can make it but the rest of you will get lost. Do you think the chance is worth all that work and suffering?"

The bridge workers shifted uncomfortably on their feet. Then a voice exclaimed:

"Don't worry, boss. We'll make it somehow."

"Thorn says there's nobody over there," Murray continued. "But that seems strange, for I happen to know of half a dozen outfits at the head of the White river. Jack Dalton has had a gang working there for four years."

Dalton was a famous character in

BALTIMORE & OHIO BASEBALL SEASON STARTS TOMORROW

A Game Will be Played at Both Fayette Field and South Conneltsville.

SEVEN TEAMS IN LEAGUE NOW

Maintenance of Way Team Has Been Organized of Men From Meyersdale,
Sand Patch and Garrett. All the Material But Uniforms Is Here.

The baseball season of the Baltimore & Ohio Special League will open tomorrow when the Shops will play the Conneltsville Yard at South Conneltsville and the Freight Office team the Superintendents' Office at Fayette Field. The Rockwood and Somerset teams will clash at Somerset. The uniforms for the men have not yet arrived and all the players will not appear dressed for a game, but they will probably be here for the game on Saturday of next week.

The subject of baseball is being talked of by railroaders all over the Conneltsville division and the best material among the workmen has been picked out by the captains and managers. Each team is certain of a large number of backers, and a large attendance at both diamonds Saturday is expected.

One more team has been added to the division league; a maintenance of way team, composed of players from about Garrett, Meyersdale and Sand Patch. This will cause a slight change in the schedule but it will not cut down the number of games to be played by each team.

The supplies, that were ordered at the beginning of the week through J. H. Doyle of this city, arrived yesterday morning and were distributed at the superintendent's office. The material to be used by all the teams in new and furnished free, and the company in return is glad to see the interest the teams have aroused among the employees. The seven teams will all have uniforms of different colors, and some will be striped.

Workmen have been repairing Fayette Field for the game to take place there tomorrow afternoon. New base bags have been received for both diamonds and these will be placed the day of the game when the main playing field is laid out.

Players who know about the game have been elected captains of the teams on the Conneltsville division and a manager to each team has also been elected. On the four teams located here the officers are: Freight Office, G. M. Tipton, manager, R. N. Addis, captain; Superintendent's Office, J. L. McGrath, manager, E. Christie, captain; Yards, J. R. Marshall, manager, H. Walton, captain; Shops, E. W. Mitchell, manager, Ernest Fisher, captain. The managers of the Rockwood and Somerset teams are E. H. Miller and A. E. McVicker, respectively. The names of the captains of these teams have not yet been sent to the local office.

The umpires for each team have not yet been named. The choice of umpire was left up to the officers of the team and the names of them have not yet been sent in. There will be two umpires for each game played.

A REAL FLESH BUILDER FOR THIN PEOPLE

This man and woman—that he hears, filling dinner you are late night? What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food didn't work and stick and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folk the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably caddy out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish food and fancy sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are getting and eat with every one of them a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Pile to eight solid solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. This people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known in chemistry. They come in tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and all good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package.

PRICE CUTTING

It Is Described by Vice Chairman of Trade Commission.

In a recent address Edward W. Herley vice chairman of the Federal Trade Commission dwelt strongly upon the evils of price cutting as applied to every line of trade or industry. "The price cutters," he said, "are the wolves of industry." They are not fair to customers, stockholders, employees, or competitors. They cut prices only because they do not know what it costs them to put their product on the market.

"There were 22,000 failures in the United States last year. Ninety per cent of them resulted from cutthroat competition prices."
